

The book of martyr Ahmed Mohamed Nasser is the property of Eritrean people

To begin with, we should underscore the fact that the book of Martyr Ahmed Mohammed Nasser is the property of the Eritrean people. This being the case, therefore, we, the family, (his widow, Suad Abdalla, and her children) strongly cherish the passing to the coming generations his long experience in struggle and his rich legacy through his book as he had written and composed it.

Hence, having endured bitter experience in the past years since his martyrdom, we are now committed to fulfil his wishes and release the book to the public after ensuring the integrity and authenticity of the contents therein as he had written them. In order to be able to discharge of this responsibility fully, thus, we are obliged to request all concerned to duly respect the guide lines we intend to issue.

Moreover, underlining that the judgement of the book and the contents does rest within the realm of the public, by and large, and the professionals only, it is our obligation to ensure the originality of the material in the book. Thus, we shall unveil our request subsequent to reception of a published copy of the book.

Our terms

Here is a checklist that we, Ahmed's family, demand that you follow

1. The books may not be launched without our prior approval.
2. We will have a professional company do a proofreading to compare the book with the original document. This will take about three weeks, from today's date.
3. No book may be distributed to individuals, or organizations, without our knowledge.
4. No book event may be held without our knowledge, or without our approval.
5. Send the books directly from the print shop to our home address.
6. Specify in writing the number of books you send, as well as how many have been printed.
7. We, Ahmed's family, are the only ones responsible for marketing and selling Ahmed's book.
8. Return all pictures attached to Ahmed's book. The pictures were taken from Ahmed's home a couple of years ago.
9. Ahmed's family will be responsible for translating the book into Tigrinya and all costs that entails.
10. The USB memory containing the book document, sent for proof reading from Ahmed's home 5.5 years ago, must be returned.

If the above checklist is not observed, we will take legal action.
